

SYMMETRY PRINCIPLE

A bug is crawling on the coordinate plane from $(5,9)$ to $(-15,-7)$ at constant speed one unit per second except in the second quadrant where it travels at $\frac{1}{2}$ units per second. What path should the bug take to complete its journey in as short a time as possible.