

ELENA'S HOMEROOM SAYS:

1. To learn
2. To have fun
3. To get ideas
4. To have adventures sitting down
5. To have imagination
6. To discover more things
7. To be inspired
8. To know what genre you like
9. To be prepared for the future
10. To expand your vocabulary
11. To learn about the past
12. To learn how to spell
13. To learn how to solve problems
14. To travel in your mind
15. To understand words
16. To not get lost (when traveling)
17. To fall asleep
18. To be wiser
19. To go to college
20. To learn history and about other cultures
21. To learn what you want to be when you grow up and what it takes to do that
22. To exercise your brain
23. To learn about nature
24. To discover the world
25. To learn different languages
26. To learn about life
27. To get a better job
28. To recommend books to others
29. To reach your dreams
30. To own your own business
31. To make your life better
32. To learn how things work
33. To get more brain cells
34. To write
35. To understand people better
36. To get smart
37. To make your writing more interesting
38. To learn how to read
39. To teach
40. To learn punctuation
41. To invent things
42. To discover different lives
43. To play sports
44. To meet new people
45. To be an author
46. To discover things you never thought of
47. To connect to your life
48. To learn more about yourself
49. To read instructions
50. To read about teenagers and their problems and to not make the same mistakes
51. To get better at school
52. To make movies
53. To prepare things
54. To learn about ancient people
55. To correct historical inaccuracies
56. To be responsible for yourself
57. To get crazy for books
58. To let your imagination go
59. To be an artist
60. To find answers to what you wonder
61. To persevere in life
62. To learn how to contact people
63. To learn how to not give up on books you don't like to read
64. To use a dictionary
65. To make yourself think
66. To know a good book and a bad book
67. To survive
68. To learn about things that are unfair, to learn how to defend yourself
69. To get ideas
70. To learn right from wrong
71. To learn from your own mistakes

72. To learn the morals of life
73. To learn what's going on in the world
74. To learn how to dance
75. To learn how to be a girl
76. To judge
77. To learn how to eat neat
78. To learn how to keep yourself safe
79. To learn about science
80. To be excited
81. To love
82. To learn about different lives
83. To be in a book club
84. To make things better
85. To know how to do your job better
86. To be reflective
87. To learn about sex
88. To learn WHY Bin Laden bombed the towers—to not just be mad at him
89. To learn about laws
90. To learn about war
91. To learn about self esteem
92. To get a good education
93. To learn about places you'll never go
94. To learn WHY people do things
95. To learn about writers
96. To learn to be creative
97. To find answers
98. To have pen-pals
99. To tell jokes
100. To appreciate your own life more
101. To never give up!

ELENA'S BLOCK CLASS SAYS:

1. To make good writing
2. To learn new words
3. To spell.
4. To make a good imagination
5. To learn about other people's feelings
6. To read people's ideas
7. To get smarter
8. To read warnings
9. To prepare yourself for college
10. To fill out applications
11. To get a good career
12. To read faster
13. To get an education
14. To get a good job
15. To learn how to draw
16. To have a better future
17. To be a writer
18. To be more responsible
19. To answer math problems
20. To let your mind grow
21. To pass grade
22. To know what's happening
23. To learn
24. To learn new languages
25. To go into someone else's shoes
26. To go to another world
27. To learn new things
28. To learn about cultures
29. To learn about ancestors
30. To learn about animals
31. To pass tests
32. To know good books
33. To know about history
34. To understand what you don't understand now
35. To learn from other people's mistakes
36. To learn about how to make cars

37. To know your colors
38. To learn how to drive
39. To learn math
40. To be better at what you want to be
41. To know how to play a game
42. To operate machinery
43. To know how to speak correct English
44. To be something in life
45. To learn about chimps
46. To be all you can be
47. To focus on what you need to focus on
48. To not get bored
49. To travel around the world (through a book)
50. To know what words mean
51. To read addresses
52. To know where you live and where you are
53. To know how to get to different places
54. For a job
55. To achieve your goals legally
56. To learn about important people
57. To learn about important things in the past
58. To learn what you are and where you came from
59. To help you with school work
60. To read letters
61. To take care of your pets
62. To learn how to breed pets
63. To translate
64. To know what's happening in the world around you
65. To not get embarrassed
66. To know how to pick good books
67. To go grocery shopping
68. To read what you write
69. To know who to mess with
70. To defend yourself
71. To take care of old parents
72. To learn about science
73. To learn about nature
74. To learn about your body
75. To learn about Lucy
76. To know what the teacher is writing
77. To help you be more serious about your work
78. To learn about the earth
79. To persevere in your life
80. To know what not to do
81. To know what's dangerous
82. To know what to eat and what not to eat
83. To know about Neandertals
84. to talk about the book with your friends
85. To know what to expect from people who aren't like you
86. To teach your family to read
87. To know what to say after you read it
88. To learn how to survive in the wild
89. to know what day it is
90. To be able to sign a contract
91. To know what to do in an emergency
92. To understand the world better
93. To read instructions
94. To relax
95. To prevent pregnancy
96. To prevent HIV/AIDS
97. To read parking tickets
98. To know about incredible people in the past
99. To get interested in something that'll help you
100. To go to college
101. To read about what kinds of movies you like
102. To know what's in the food you eat

203 Reasons to READ!!!

By Elena's
6th Grade Class
March 2002
ASCEND