

Faculty were asked to submit proposals for a study abroad experience which integrates two or three areas of study around a significant theme, problem, issue or question. The following proposals were received:

Sustainability: An Australian Experience

Offering 12 credits over 8 weeks with courses in Writing about Nature, Environmental Biology, and People and the Environment. Collaborating units include:

Writing, Rhetoric and American Cultures
Community, Agriculture, Recreation and Resource Studies
Biosystems and Agricultural Engineering
School of Planning, Design and Construction

The Eastern Mediterranean Basin: Past and Present Cultures

Offering 6 credits over 3 weeks. Collaborating units include:

James Madison College
Fisheries and Wildlife

Culture, Society and Religion in Senegal

Offering 8-12 credits over 6 weeks with courses in Global Diversity and Interdependence—Muslim West Africa, Arts & Humanities Area Studies—Africa, French (optional) and Wolof (optional). Collaborating units include:

English
Anthropology